CORE COMPETENCIES

ICLS delivers evidence-based frameworks that integrate secondary humanities content with explicit literacy instruction. Our work is organized across three focused tracks:

ADOLESCENT LITERACY FOUNDATIONS	DISCIPLINARY LITERACY MASTERY
Designing and implementing high-yield, low-prep access structures for decoding, processing, and academic-text comprehension, tailored for middle and high school students working with dense secondary informational texts.	Cultivating advanced, content-specific cognitive routines that help secondary students read, write, and critique evidence like historians through explicit sourcing, contextualization, and corroboration.
JOB-EMBEDDED COLLABORATIVE COACHING	CURRICULUM REALIGNMENT & RIGOR AUDITS
Facilitating structured professional learning communities (PLCs) within teacher collaborative-planning windows, supporting environments where educators feel seen, heard, and understood.	Modernizing district pacing guides and curriculum frameworks to integrate rigorous text analysis and evidence-based writing routines.

ADDITIONAL SERVICE CAPABILITIES

Specialized support complements ICLS's core literacy and professional-learning work:

SPECIALIZED MANUSCRIPT & CONTENT EDITING	Academic, developmental, and line editing for educational nonfiction, academic journals, peer-reviewed texts, and children's picture books.
PROFESSIONAL LEARNING & PLC SUPPORT	Structured collaboration, coaching, and practical learning experiences designed to support educators during planning and implementation.
CURRICULUM REALIGNMENT	Reviewing curriculum frameworks and pacing guides to strengthen rigorous text analysis and evidence-based writing routines.

DIFFERENTIATORS

PROVEN ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP

Led by Dr. Kimberly Miles, who holds an Education Doctorate (Ed.D., 3.9 GPA) and professional endorsements in Instructional Coaching, Gifted Education, and ESOL.

PUBLISHED FRAMEWORKS
